VERANTWORTUNGS- VOLL RESPONSIBLE

For a more sustainable and healthier future

After intensive negotiations, Götterbote Import & Export Handels UG signed an exclusive agreement at the end of 2025 with the Indian company Ecolastic Products Pvt. Ltd., based in Hyderabad, India.

Ecolastic is one of the world's leading manufacturers of compostable bioplastic products made from natural and renewable raw materials such as corn or sugar cane.

Ecolastic products contain no health-concerning substances and support companies in making a responsible transition toward a more sustainable and healthier future.

The compostable Ecolastic products are certified according to international and EU standards and can therefore be distributed and used throughout the European Union and worldwide. They offer a modern alternative to conventional and recycled plastic products and support companies in achieving their sustainability goals.

Götterbote will distribute the compostable Ecolastic products throughout Europe. Initially, Götterbote will focus on Germany and Poland and then gradually expand distribution to other European countries.

Götterbote is also cooperating with INAVIA Aviation Consultants GmbH, which will focus on the aviation and tourism market segments.

Götterbote itself handles distribution in retail, wholesale structures, large consumer markets, industry and all further application areas where compostable bioplastic products can be used responsibly.

I am very proud that we have succeeded in becoming the exclusive European distribution partner for Ecolastic. Compostable bioplastic products made from natural, renewable raw materials belong to the future. We support the European Union in its efforts to protect the environment and promote a more sustainable future. Ecolastic and Götterbote are working together to create an ecological and healthier future in Europe.
